

About Us

Creditz is a self owned product, created to help companies to identify and choose their audience to which we can provide loan, meticulously.

Some of the biggest brains of our company employed very acute and incisive approach to understand what are the risk an organizations might face whilst providing loans to any individual or any well established organization, and we had craeted an algorithm which promise to provide 99% safety to the loan providers.

I am thinking that, we can write the problem statement here!
